battlefield of both peace and war recalls today the dark hours of the nation's need and trouble in the throes of which the Republican party was born and when our Golden State of California gave to the party its first standard-bearer in the person of Gen. John C. Fremont, the immortal "path-finder." Forty-eight years have elapsed since that time, but now, as then, "God reigns and the government at Washington still lives." When the glorious roll call of the States is called in this convention, the voice of California will again be heard through the lips of one of her eloquent sons, who will rise to second the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt.

Upon the eve of this great gathering of Republican freemen, fraught, with so much meaning and of such vast and vital importance to the American people, the city of Chicago presents scarcely a noticeable change from its husy every-day life. NEW YORK, June 20 .- Cooper Unio was crowded tonight at the anti-Par-ker convention called by some of those who do not concur in the instructions given at the New York State convengiven at the New York State convention. W. J. Bryan was the principal speaker and when he appeared on the platform he was enthusiastically applauded. Before making his address, he said he would not name his favorite candidate for President but he made a savage attack on the reorganizers and vigorously opposed the nomination of Judge Parker, who was held up as the candidate of the corporations and not of the people.

Judge Samuel Seabury of the City Court, who presided, spoke of Parker as the candidate of the "plutoracy." He advised the meeting to repudiate Parker and urged the sending of a delegation to St. Louis to protest against his nomination and to assure the convention that if nominated, Parker could not carry New York.

THEME FOR SERMONS

Nearly every clergyman in Greate New York referred in his Sunday disourse to the Slocum disaster. A dom inant note in all the sermons was sym-pathy, but many strong comments were heard as to the cause of the dis-

Dr. Robert S. McArthur, at Calvary Baptist Church, said: "The sense of brotherhood has been strong in every soul since this disaster. We have learned the lesson of sympathy. We must learn that of precaution."

Rev. Dr. Huntington of Grace Church, said: "Those poor sufferers died not in vain if, following upon their dreadful pains, there come better shipbuilding regulations, more rigid inspection of steam vessels and stricter discipline aboard vessels carrying human life." General dread caused by the dis-aster has greatly thinned the crowds which usually fill to the limit the excursion steamers plying to nearby re sorts. Many steamers with a capac-ity of 1500 to 2000 left their docks ity of 1500 to 2000 left their docks carrying less than half that number. Employés of the dock department stationed along the wharves for many rears declare they never before had seen such a sudden falling off in the crowds of "lensure seekers.

One of the most pathetic cases in connection with the burning of the Slocum is that of a German woman and her young daughter. They lived in an Fast Side tenement. The woran came to America with her husban-l

She is now on the ocean. Meanwhile, taking her second child, the poor woman went on the Slocum for a breath of fresh air. She was brought up dead from the wreckage, with the child locked in her arms. The name of the steamer on which the first child is a passenger cannot be learned, and the relief committee is arranging to have a watch kept at the immigrant station for her. TESTIMONY AT INQUEST.

TESTIMONY AT INQUEST. IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.1 (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.-P.M.)
NEW YORK, June 20.—According to the testimony of John J. Coakley, one of the Slocum's deck hands, at the Coroner's inquest, he never had been company, at the beginning of last seasen.

Cockley said he first learned that the steamer was on fire when a small boy called his attention to the smoke rolling down from the bow. He was below and could not tell exactly where the boat was at that time. Coakley raid he ran toward the bow of the steamer, and found a blaze in the locker where the oil for the lamps was kept. He said he dumped charcoal on it, hoping to smother the flames, then called for assistance. The fire was so hot that he and those who came to help him were driven out of the locker, but they got the hose in position and had just directed a stream of water on the fire when the hose burst. No ettempt was made to replace the ruined hose, he said, as the passengers were in a panic, and made it almost impossible to do anything. They could not reach the other standpipe, back near the stern of the steamer. When the crew found it impossible to control the fire, they turned their attention to the passengers.

Coakley said he took down many life preservers and distributed them among the women and children. So far as he could see, all the preservers were in good condition.

It was impossible to reach any of the large rafts before the panic, but one of the large boats was lowered. The boats were so surrounded by struggling people that the crew could not get at them. The boat which they succeeded in clearing was filled with women and children, but it capsized while it was being lowered from the davitts.

while it was being lowered from the davitts.

The witness was unable to give any information as to the origin of the fire. The room in which it started was lighted by a common ship lamp when in use, but he was sure that the lamp was not lighted when he found the blaze. He remembered that a quantity of hay which had been packed around a barrel of beer glasses brought on board that day had been stored in the locker. He also said it was the custom of the men to light matches in the locker when they wanted to find anything there.

OLD LINENS AND OIL.

Edward Flannagan, the mate for the last two sensons on the Slocum, said tha the forward cabin, where the fire broke out, was used for storing old linens worn-out awnings and brooms. He had one barrel of sperm oil there, and there were some empty barrels that had contained cil.

had one barrel of sperm oil there, and there were some empty barrels that lad contained cil.

Flannagan said that as soon as he was aware of the fire he notified the captain, calling up the tube: "We are all after forward."

"What answer did you get?"

"I did not wait for any answer. I went to the engineers to give me water."

"That you given any orders up to that time to man the lifeboat?"

"What orders did you give your men?"

"Not up to that time."

"What orders did you give your men?"

"None up to that time. When I got back from the regimeers I manned the pipes. Then when the water pressure came a coupler blew off and the pipe burst. Then we 'ried to reach the other standpipes, but could not pass the fames."

Fiannagan said he was present when the special inspection took place. At this point the Coroner ordered Inspectors Fleming and Lundborg to leave the courtroom.

Fiannagan, however, said he did not accompany the inspectors on their rounds. He knew, he said, that ten or twenty of the life preservers were ordered down by one of the inspectors. He declared that all the preservers were stamped "1891."

To United Stantes District Attorney Wise Flannagan said he had no license as either master or mate. His duties were to take charge of the deck craw. "Did you ever have a fire drill?" asked Mr. Wise.

Fiannagan placed his hands on his forehead and then replied: "Not to my memory. I don't recall it. I have been very sick."

Flannagan said he never counted the life preservers were in first-class condition.

Next Monday work will be begun on the franchise purchased by the Los Angeles Railway Company, June 7, which provides for an electric line from the Southern Pacific shops at the southern end of Lamar street to the northern end of Griffin avenue, near Highland Park. It will be the first line built by the company which does not run to the center of the city, or in other words, which is purely a cross-town line. It is to be operated more for the benefit of the employés of the Southern Pactfic shops than for anything else. It will be known as the Griffin-avenue line, and transfers will be given to other lines of the company which it crosses. Fog hung over the city at dawn, but this was dissipated by the sun, which drove back the clouds and left a cheerful day. It is a day which would draw the crowds to the open lobbies and the sidewalks without even the game of politics for a magnet. But, despite all this, the picture is not yet recognizable as a true convention scene. In the corridors of the principal hotels, where the States have established headquarters, pass groups of prominent national asked that Theodore Roosevelt be selected as the choice for President, and the chairman, putting the motion, said: "All in favor say aye; there are no negatives."

Senator Depew was chosen chairman. All of the Brooklyn delegation, including ex-uov. Woodruff, were absent, but it was understood that they were being dined, and they had previously acquiesced in the programme followed by the delegation.

After the New York State delegation had adjourned with three cheers for the ticket, there came the first enthusiastic incident of the day. Senator Depew, trying to pass downstairs, was intercepted by a crowd of delegates, among whom were many Indiana men. Compelled, amid great cheering and the music of the band, to speak, Senator Depew said: "We of New York have held a conference which will be ratified tomorrow and the next day.

inated all obstacles to the holding of caucuses. State headquarters were sought, and the programme of the day ascertained. It developed that most of the caucuses would be held late in the day, or tonight, and nothing remained to the newcomers but to take their piaces in the hotel lobbies and discuss the absence of contests, the inactivity of delegations and the small attendance. POLITICAL. (Continued from Second Page.) themselves as out of fashion at this convention as swashbucklers would be between files of modern infantrymen. To put it plainly, this convention is a gathering of sober-minded American business men, met to perform a public duty with the same seriousness of conduct that would characterize their actions were it a matter of their own private realizate and screen of their own private welfare and concern.

Let it not be thought, however, that this occasion is what in the parlance of the day would be called "a frost." On the contrary there is evident upon every hand an enthusiasm for the President which is all the more eloquent because of its quiet earnestness. There are larger numbers of people in attendance upon this convention than upon any similar event ever known in the history of the country, and if the Collseum, where the convention is to be held, were ten times as large as it is, it still would prove inadequate to hold those who, will tomorrow clamor for admittance to it. It is safe to say that, never before, not even accepting its most notable World's Fair days, has Chicago sheltered within its gates so representatively large a body of American citizens as are here now. In here, tonight, are our countrymen from every State and Territory of the Union. They are here by the hundreds and by the thousands, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, from the shores of the Atlantic to the waters of our own sunlit ocean of the West, from the heart of the Rockies, from the desert piaces and the vales of the luxuriant South. They are here from the Alaskan snows and from the isles of the far-off seas. They are here from the Alaskan snows and from the isles of the far-off seas, new-born to freedom beneath the

THE ONE NAME.

And on the lips of every man of cese, breathed with loyalty and affection, there is no name but the name of him who stormed the helghts of San Juan and brought new glory to his country's fame. Tonight, these men that are here are speaking the name of Theodore Roosevelt, not in maudin phrases over cups too often filled, but soberly each to the other with a feeling of deep content. They are saying to each other that their President is like the nation itself—strong and young, dauntless, brave and true.

Maybe the politicians do not like him any the best, but he seems to suit these solid, substantial American business men so well that they thought it worth while to come here from their homes and working-places to see that

And the selection of the great Hoosier Senator is beyond a doubt the best thing that could happen. He will prove an ideal running mate for President Roosevelt, The Hoosiers love the very ground that Charles Warren Fairbanks walks on. In Indiana his name is a thing to conjure with. He is today in the full prime and vigor of life, and is in full prime and vigor of life, and is in every way fitted to take up the responsibility of the Presidency should it ever become necessary for him to do so. Senator Fairbanks is an orator of the first rank, a commanding figure physically, as well as mentally, and as a campaigner he is almost without a peer. CONVENTION GOSSIP.

DOINGS OF THE DELEGATES.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.] CHICAGO, June 20 .- The forenoo trains today brought in the stragglers, and the ranks of nearly all the State delegations have been filled. With the arrival of dolayed delegates were elimfigures, and one hears a laugh which follows a story well told. The utter absence of sharp political work is noticeable, and forces the realization that everything is "fixed".

One of the absentees is the man who has "attended every Republican convention since Lincoln was nominated, but that is only another illustration. Some importance is attached to a cesultory discussion of Senator Pairtainished and the little flurry raised by the possibility of tariff revision and reciprocity creeping into the resolutions in a form abnoxious to "stand-patters," politics would be a dead letter in the Republican convention this year. Though most of the States will chucus tooday and the convention between the condition of the second, no occasion exists for marching clubs of enthusiastic shouting thousands, headed by bands, nor for other cryanizations which customarily add to the din, the blare and the excitement of a convention. They are not receded, and they are not here. One square from the lake-front hotels, the only sign of a convention is a straggier of an adventurous turn, who is known as a diegate by the barge plinned to his lapel.

TARIFF PLANK. "We pledge to make such changes from time to time in the tariff schedules as changing conditions make ules as changing conditions make necessary."

That is the language of the proposed platform plank, as now agreed upon, and it becomes more evident that no further concessions will be made to those demanding a revision. It is asserted by the Republican leaders that the Presidential campaign will cause the Presidential campaign will cause enough disturbance in business without adding to it a definite promise of tariff revision by the next session of Con-

NEW YORK COMMITTEEMEN. New York has decided to name to-night the following members of com-mittees: Chairman of delegation, T. mittees: Chairman of delegation, T. C. Platt; Committee on Resolutions, Edward Lauterbach; Organization, Timothy—L. Woodruff; Notification of President, Chauncey M. Depew; Member of National Committee, William L. Ward. The delegation will indorse the present tariff planks.

The anti-Addicks delegation from Delaware has determined to carry its fight for seats in the convention to the Committee on Credentials. The delegation met today, elected Senator L. H. Ball chairman and made a state for the various positions.

LAST MEETING OF IT. The present National Committee met today for the last time, finished the few details left for its consideration, and then adjourned for good. No National Committee meetings will be held until the new organization is formed at the close of the convention. When the members met today, Senator Scott of West Virginia took the chair. Senator McComas of Maryland at once introduced a resolution providing that acting Chairman Henry C. Payne be made chairman for the remaining time the committee is in existence. He paid a high tribute to Mr. Payne's ability and party services, and moved for the adoption of his resolution. It was adopted by a rising vote, the few details left for its considera-

At a meeting of the West Virginia delegation, Senator Elkins was in-dorsed for Vice-President, while Fair-banks was declared to be the dele-sation's second choice.

OTHER DELEGATIONS. At a meeting of the North Dakota delegation, there was discussion of the question of tariff reform, based on question of tariff reform, based on Senator 'Hansbrough's resolution, but the decision was reached by a ma-jority vote to support the policy of anti-revision. The prevailing opinion was favorable to a declaration on the lines that were followed four years ago. By general consent, Senator Hansbrough was placed on the Com-mittee on Resolutions, and no objec-tion will be made to him offering the resolution. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.
Fairbanks, for Vice-President, will receive the solid vote of Washington. This announcement was made by Senator Ankeney.
The Kentucky-delegation is divided on the Vice-Presidency. A majority are, however, favorable to the Indianan. A caucus is to be held late today, when an effort will be made to unite on a candidate.

The California delegation met today and organized. J. W. McKinley was

The Indiana delegation met today, and on motion of Senator Beveridge, Senator Fairbanks was made chairman Fairbanks and "stand pat" is the osition of the South Dakota delegaand on motion of Senator Beveridge, Senator Fairbanks was made chairman by acclamation.

No mention was made in the meeting of the subject of the Vice-Presidency, and it is understood that silence on that point was due to a request from Mr. Fairbanks himself, who still adheres to his determination to do nothing that would look like seeking the position. Senator Beveridge, who will represent Indiana on the Committee on Resolutions, is a "stand-patter." Delegates from Indian Territory, uncertain as to what action will be taken by the convention on the subject of Statehood, are making an earnest fight for home rule for all Territories—pending their admission to the Union. A joint conference of the Okiahoma and Indian Territory delegates may be held, looking to coöperation in bringing about a declaration for the admission of their Territories as one State. Prominent Republicans in both Territories say they have been disappointed so often that they want some recognition assuring better conditions in the Territories, should Statehood be denied. With this end in view, they ask the convention to take a stand in favor of home rule and for the appointment of residents of the Territories.

The Hawaiian and Porto Rican delegations have agreed to get together in an effort to secure the insertion of a plank in the platform favorable to a duty on coffee.

The Wyoming State delegation perfected its organization today. The "stand pat" policy was indorsed. Senator Warren was selected as chairman of the delegation and J. E. Cosgriff, as secretary. The delegation will make the following recommendations for committee positions, in the convention: Credentials, M. C. Nichols; Rules and Order of Business, J. E. vention: Credentials, M. C. NEW YORKERS'-MEETING.

NEW YORKERS MEETING. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) CHICAGO, June 20.—The New York State delegation in caucus tonight instructed Senator Thomas C. Platt, by motion of Gov. Odell, to cast thei votes for Theodore Roosevelt for Pres-ident and Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana for Vice-President. The meeting diana for Vice-President. The meeting was very harmonious.

Gov. Odell personally named Senator Platt as chairman, and moved that he cast New York's vote as a unit. When the Governor moved that New York instruct for Fairbanks for Vice-President there was a cheer, and former State Senator J. S. Fassett said: "I want to say that I think Gov. Odell's proposition a very sensible one. We all know Senator Fairbanks, and we all know that he is a capable and patriotic man. He will lend strength to the ticket."

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

We have nominated Theodore Roosevelt for President and Charles W. Fairbanks for Vice-President, and they will be indorsed. We have written a platform of principles, and they will be referred tomorrow or the next day. We are people who have received grace and are absolutely sure of salvation. Our convention is quiet, because a certainty produces no excitement. In convention, when they riot and fight, they fear public opinion. I have never seen more harmony than that at the New York meeting tonight. That is important, because as goes New York so goes the nation."

MISSING FACES.

Expressions of genuine regret at the absence of two faces familiar at similar gatherings four, eight and twelve years ago are heard on every side. Men who have played leading roles in the art of making tickets and platforms, men whose personality, shrewdness, qualifiacations and persuasiveness have changed entire States or sections of the country are missed in the hotel lobbies and various head-quarters. Some of these have figured in Republican conventions for a quarter of a century, notably the late Senator M. S. Quay of Pennsylvania, and the late William Sewell of New Jersey. One whose absence is felt more, perhaps, than that of any other man, is the late Senator Hanna, though his debut on the political stage was of more recent date. Numerous pictures of the late Senator attest to his popularity.

But the absence of the great men mentioned does not indicate that the cast of the play which opens at the Coliseum tomorrow has been weak-ened. In the shoes of the men who have passed away are politicians equally astute, who have had their training at master hands. They may not be so well known in national affairs, and their names are not so effective to conjure with, but they are ready and competent to perform any task that offers. The only difficulty is fective to conjure with, but they are ready and competent to perform any task that offers. The only difficulty is that the task is not there. Contests worthy of the name are utterly lacking. The fight between the La Follette and "Stalwart" factions in Wisconsin, the contest between the Addicks and the anti-Addicks faction in Delaware, the "Lily White" and the "Black and Tan" factions of Southern States were disposed of with so much dispatch that they failed to furnish the gossip necessary to an interesting convention. About all that was left to feed the craving of delegates for excitement and to furnish a topic of conversation was the question of how long Senator Fairbanks's inscrutable silence would continue.

At Honolulu the new Supreme Court has commuted the sentence of disbar-ment upon G. A. Davis to suspension of practice until next October.

THE CANNED GOODS OUTLOOK.
President Jacobs of the California Canneries Co. is responsible for the following statement, as printed in the Grocers' Advocate of San Francisco:
"The excitement on green fruit prices is to a considerable extent unwarranted. It may be expected that higher prices will prevail, as we have a late season and shortage in some of the fruits.

"Peaches and pears are two weeks behind last season. Pears and plums will both come in at once, making a glut in the market about the last half of August."

will both come in at once, making a glut in the market about the last half of August.

"Lemon clings will be less in demand owing to high prices asked for green stock. England has an oversupply of lemon cling fruit from last season, and will not be a heavy buyer.

"A year ago lemon cling stock sold at from $15 to $22 per ton. This year the highest price paid was $35 per ton. Apricots sold in the orchard last year at from $20 to $25, and they are selling now at $27 to $32,50 per ton. The canners will be compelled to curtail their packs, as both the South and East have large crops and will pack heavily thus cutting off some part of our trade in those sections."

COMPARISONS IN PRICES. It is interesting to note the following com-pilation of prices now and a year ago. The American Banker furnishes the comparison:

CITRUS MOVEMENT. On Friday and Saturday the railroads hauled 164 carloads of oranges to Eastern cities and 24 of lemons, making a total of 24,955 carloads.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The week did not nart in with evidence of increased activity in any line of deciduous fruits, in fact, the call was restricted to routine requirements in local channels. Under free supplies, the general market exhibited an easy tone, and lower prices prevailed for almost all descriptions are a material falling-off, and with competition keen, close clearances of available supplies were quickly effected in hardened rates. Aside from white Astrachan applies, which were wanted for shipping and easily brought up to outside quotation, the general run of offer ings dragged slowly, and holders were inclined to urge business by accepting shaded rates. Lower prices prevailed for apricots and peaches, supplies being in excess of tradewants. Even at revised figures, the movement was cautious, and the market chosed with large surplus uncared for. Plums and poars held but lite favor, and with the bulk of offerings uneven in quality, irregular prices vest difference in sizes of the packages in which the consignments came. The weather had a depressing influence upon the market for cantaloupes and watermeions, and easier prices prevailed for both descriptions, but the demand lacked spirit. Grapes dragged at familiar rates. Berries met with less urgent call, and the market assumed an easier tone. GRAIN, FRUIT AND PRODUCE.

The contest for control of citrus-fruit shipments in the coming season's business was opened last week at Porterville, in Tujare county, and as a result it is announced that the Zante Citrus Association has resigned its membership in the Southern California Fruit Exchange and become affliated with the California Citrus Union. The exchange and the Union were heretofore doing business jointly through the fruit agency, but, as is well known, an agreement was recently made to dissolve the merger on September 1, and now both organizations are out in the fruit district as keen competitors.

HAPPY COOKSEY BARBERS.

HAPPY COOKSEY BARBERS.

No such good luck ever fell to the lot of a union-ridden barber shop as that in store for the "Cooksey" on Wednesday. The Cooksey has been "boycotted" by the walking delegates until its prosperity is so great that the proprietor, J. E. Cooksey, is satisfied to close up right in the middle of the week and give all hands a free excursion and a half-day of pleasure at the beach. He employs twenty-one barbers and eight other men, and on Wednesday afternoon the whole outfit, with their wives, children and sweethearts, will be taken to Santa Monica in two private cars. The entire party counts un sevenity beople, and will include the Ladles' Mandolin Orchestra and a colored quartette. The cars will leave the Fourth-street station at 1 o'clock, and the afternoon will be spent on the beach and in dancing in the pavillon, which has been secured in advance.

Imperial Honors Promised to Local Orientals.

Banquet Last Evening for High Commissioners.

Distinguished Visitors From San Francisco.

San Francisco.

To the association's work and the welfare of its members will be discussed. Los Angeles will send two delegates to the San Francisco meeting, Fred L. Baker of the Baker Iron Works and William Lacy of the Lacy Manufacturing Company to represent the many local concerns which are members of the national Association of Manufacturers is doing yeoman service in the great cause of industrial freedom, and is of far-reaching and great benefit to its individual members. Its membership is growing rapidly, as employers realize the advantages of connection with the organization. About a thousand new members were enrolled last year, and the total membership now exceeds 3000.

A gorgeous banquet was given in Chinatown last night in honor of two visiting pig-tailed big-wigs, the Most Distinguished and Honorable Yee Bo Kong and His All Right Muchness, Chan Sue Dong.

They are here from San Francisco getting recruits for a Hall of Fame. A number-of local Chinamen thus being able to have their worthy names inscribed, for future ages to see, within the "Pink Walls of the Forbidden City." the whole Los Angeles Chinese. It seems that in the province of Shan Tung a terrible famine is raz-Shan Tung a terrible famine is razing. The imperial government has already advanced large sums of money for the famine sufferers, and has appealed to the patriotic Chinese both at home and in America to do something to reimburse the imperial treasury. The promise is made that the Emberor will cause to be placed on file in records of perpetual memory the name of every subject who contributes $25 or over.

According to the price contributed, different degrees and honors are to be conferred upon the contributors. Although there is probably not a single Chinaman in Los Angeles from Shan Tung, the glittering fame ahead is attracting the enthusiasm of the local Ghinese, not to mentio their hard-earned cash. Most of the Chinese here have been poor peasants and wharf rats in the Canton provinces. Getting on an imperial roll of honor doubtless seems greatness itself to them.

At any wate, sofrees are being given merchant of that city—a man well on in years and of great influence along the Coast.

Such clothes as they wear never were seen in Chinatown before. Their gowns of crinckly soft silk flow down in majestic draperies to their ankles. Their trousers, of magnificent texture and design, and of the illusive color tints that the orientals affect, are gathered in at the ankles in the most swagger style.

Sunday afternoon a small informal dinner was given in their honor by tenrich Chinamen of this city.

Yesterday afternoon, a big banquet was given in the banquet hall at the corner of Marchessault and Alangeda streets. Forty or fifty were present. The little old cook of the establishment laid himself out and hearly burned the top off the crazy little cook stove. In spite of the aversion of the Chinese to having photographs taken, the cook beamed with the pride of a society hostess and yanked all sorts of curtains out of the way to show his snow-white tables, all set with the absurd little thimble-like cups and the baskets of fruit about as big as a sugar loaf.

At the banquet the guests all squatted on high square-topped stools, very thickly set about circular tables, very thickly set about circular tables.

At the banquet the guests all squatted on high square-topped stools, very thickly set about circular tables.

No one but the cook can tell the history of the remarkable concoctions served; but they were exceedingly tasty, even to the American palate.

One feature of the Chinese banquet excels the American; there are good things to eat and pleasant social conversation without the usual wearisome speechifying.

Sharp Competition Between Two Great Lines.

> Santa Fe Boats Picking Up Deciduous Crop.

General Agents Return From Sacramento Meeting.

WANTS THE CASH With a large supply of refrigerator cars on hand the Santa Fé has launched its boats on the Sacramento River, and is going after the déciduous-fruit business of Northern California, and a fight is on with the Southern Pacific. The advent of the Santa Fé into the territory is a most important one, welcomed by the shipper and frowned upon by the Southern Pacific. It is maintained that the fight is to be purely along the lines of service, that there is to be no rate cutting, and that such was the decision of the conference at San Francisco from which General Freight Agent Chambers and FOR HIS LEASE. General Freight Agent Chambers and A little secret leaked out at the meet-

A little secret leaked out at the meeting of the Board of Water-Commissioners yesterday.

Messrz, Morton and Touser, attorneys for Harry Robson, appeared before the board and presented arguments pay-board and presented arguments pav-ing the way for a suit against the city, to recover $2500 awarded to Harry Robson by the Jury that fixed th-value of the reservoir site condemmed as the property of C. J. Shepherd. Robson had a lease on a portion of the property, which he had set to strawberries and fruit trees, and at the time the city filed its suit against Shepherd the lease of Robson had yet the two companies as to rates, but it is admitted that the question was fully discussed.

The Santa Pé started to operate its boats on the Sacramento River last Tuesday, the little craft stopping all along the banks on either side and picking up the green-fruit, shipments, which had been packed during the day. The goods were transferred at Antioch to refrigerator cars and forwarded at once to eastern points. This will be the daily routine.

In service lies the competition between the Santa Fé on the one hand, and the Southern Pacific and the Armour car line on the other. It is said that the relations of the two latter corporations have not been amicable at all times, the Southern Pacific being unable to get cars under contract with the Armour line when they were most needed. Conditions which have created a shortage of prange cars in the local market have also inconvenienced the fruit growers of the north, and it is said that radical measures are to be adopted by the Southern Pacific to meet the competition of the Santa Fé which handles its own cars. It is even intimated that the Southern Pacific is planning to cut loose from the Armour cariline.

Refrigeration and the time in transit the jury should find the value of Rob-son's lease, but that the two awards must not exceed the value of the prop-erty, the jury returned a vesdict awarding Shepherd $18,000 and Rob-The Water Board felt the award to Robson was excessive, but did not con-sider the contention now raised by Robson's attorneys, that the amount fixed as the value of the lease was not a matter for the Water Board to consider, as it was clearly a part of the value of the lund in the judgment of the jury, and if Robson's share was excessive, that was a matter of contest between Shepherd and Robson, are the factors most important to grower and shipper of green fruit. The board accepted the award of $18,000 to Shepherd, but simply permitted that to Robson to pass unno-

H. S. Robinson, a wealthy Hawaiian planter, is a guest at the Angelus. Robert Graham, manager of the Fruit Growers' Express of San Francisco, is mitted that to Robson to pass unnoticed, in making its recommendation to the City Council. The idea seemed to be that nothing was due Robson until he was deprived of his lease, which might not be until it had expired-nineteen months from the time the award of the jury was made.

Robson's attorneys were moderate in their statements to the board, Mr. Morton declaring that it was only a matter of form, laying the foundation for other steeps to be taken.

The matter was disposed of by referring it to the Finance Committee to make report at the next meeting. The board is not opposed to compensating Robson for his loss, but feels satisfied that the evidence he introduced had the effect of raising the value of the land in the eyes of the jury, and consequently the city is unjustly called upon to pay more than it is worth. Robson testified that he had between five and six acres of strawberries on the land, and Superintendent Mulholland says that actual measurement shows that he has just two and fifty-six one-hundredth acres.

Robson is the same man who a few years ago bought a dollar's worth of tomatos seeds from a local dealer, and when the seeds produced vines that failed to bear tomatoes, Robson seed of the part. He was one of the two survivors of the Black Hawk War, that war which was fought with the Indians with the wily Black Hawk at their head in the early history of Illinols, He was a young man who had barely reached his majority in 1830, He was a Mason, identified with the D EATH entered the old Soldiers' Home yesterday and mustered out former Judge John T Knox, one of the oldest and best beloved veterans of the oldest and best beloved veterans of them all, who must have heard the notes of the bugle call to the other side in pleasant dreams, for he quietly slept himself away, and left his comrades of the past six months to drop many tears of regret.

Judge Knox came to California just three years too late to be called a forty-niner, but he passed over the same adventurous trail, and was four months in making the wason journey. He lived in Sacramento for some years, and what was supposed to be a temporary illness was the means of bringing to a close a remarkable career in which the feebleness of age and its infirmities played little part. He was one of the two survivors of the Black Hawk War.

While in San Bernardino, Judge Knox While in San Bernardino, Judge Knox grew up in this frontier place when the people dressed in buckskin, went barefoot, or wore moccessins, and dieted on wild game and Johnnycake.

The Knox family tree which is the cherished possession of Mrs. R. W. Blow of West Eighth street, who is the youngest daughter of Judge Knox, includes many fine old Tennessee ammes, among them President James K. Polk, and the city of Knoxville, which is nestled among the East Tennessee Mountains, was named for a member of his family.

When he was quite young, Judge Knox mother removed to Illinois, where he grew up, and where he was a volunteer in the Black Hawk War, associated with another volunteer, by name, Abraham Lincoln.

Only day before yesterday the old soldier was talking with his daughter and his friends at the Soldiers' Home of this same man, Abraham Lincoln.

All his life long he was an ardent Democrat, and his proudest boast was when he took part in this historic ight, in which he was wounded and lad a close run for his life to the stockade, pursued by hundreds of the maked and painted savages.

Safe in the fort he had a fine view of the famous Black Hawk as he addressed his warriors on the top of a neighboring hill, and in later life when the years had brought him many other experiences, Judge knox still loved to tell of his early brush with the red skins.

This old soldier was a native of the State of Tennessee, and first opened his eyes in Readyville, Rutherford county, where a little while before the Indians had abandoned that magnificent section to the land-grabbing white man. He grew up in this frontier place when the people dressed in buckskin, went barefoot, or wore moccasins, and dieted on wild game and Johnnycake.

"Referring to the subject of offing the streets, the undersigned companies submit the following: We have treetofore refused to sprinkle the streets with water under an ordinance recently passed by the Council, not because of its expense of sprinkling, but because we believe the law does not contemplate the placing of this burden upon us, any more than upon ther citizens who use the streets for trucking, driving and riding upon, and, further, becauseit must seem unreasonable to any fair mind that your honorable body should have the power to make it a crime for us not to sprinkle such portions of the streets as you may designate, when the only water evailable for the purpose is the water ewalls for the suppose is the water ewall imprison or fine you if you of ont buy water from us at our price—in short, you say to ps: "We will imprison or fine you if you do not buy water from us at our price—and sprinkle our streets with it." Councilmen Kern, Summerland and Davenport, who had been appointed a special committee to confer with the railway companies, made a report stating that during the last year the city had expended about $400 a mile sprinkling improved streets without reaping eny permanent benefits. "The city is brought face to face with the fact that street sprinkling with water will soon be impossible," says the report, "unless we expend large sums in developing more water or bringing it from the ocean. While oiling the streets will be more expensive in the start, it will be cheaper in the end."

The committee recommended that the matter of oiling streets be referred jointly to the Finance Committee and the Board of Public Works, and the railway companies, to arrange details for sprinkling with oil.

McAleer did not like the way the sailway companies to arrange details for sprinkling with oil.

McAleer did not like the way the railways were compelled by their franchises to oil their right of way, whenever the city oiled the remaining portion of a street. He said the railways were yielding none of their rights, and they should not be considered in any arrangements made.

In this he did not have the support of the other Councilmen. They held that the railway companies should be cobsuited in arranging plans and methods, and a-motion to that effect was passed, only McAleer opposing it.

The question was promptly raised as to how the oil would be purchased. Oil nen, having been—forewarned as to what was coming up, were on hand to offer to supply oil for the streets at a low figure.

Acting on a resolution passed last February, the Council is paying 70 cents a barrel for oil. Firms are now

POLYTECHNIC HIGH. ENGSTRUM GETS CONTRACT.

Acting on a report of the Building Committee, the Council yesterday voted to award the contract for the construction of the Polytechnic-High School building to F. O. Engatrum. The price agreed upon is $147,397.

Work upon the new buildings will commence within thirty days and they must be completed ready for occumust be completed ready for occu-pancy by the first of next January. Engstrum's bid for the construction work was just $103 lower than that of Klarquist & Norburg, who offered to construct the buildings for $147,500. Five other contractors bid lower than $155,-000.

other contractors bid lower than $155,-000.

Members of the Building Committee expressed disappointment that the figures of the bidders were so high. They had hoped to get the work done for $130,000. That would have left $20,000 for the installation of a heating plant. Bonds in the amount of $200,000 were voted a year and a half ago for building and equipping a new Polytechnic High School building. About $50,000 has been expended in a building site and in architect's fees. This means that the Board of Education will have to equip the buildings and install the heating plant.

question that consumed an hour of the City Fathers' time yesterday afternoon.

Three members of the Liberty Day Committee asked the Council to appropriate $2000 toward the Fourth of July celebration fund. Four Council men thought $1000 would be enough to arrange for a proper observance of the day. Then Chairman Frank of the Celebration Committee said that this sum would be totally inadequate, that it would preclude the possibility of making a display of fireworks at the different parks in the evening.

Summerland thought, that to lose the fireworks would be a municipal calamity; the boys in his ward would not let him sleep nights if they heard that he had opposed an evening display.

When Davenport learned that there was to be no parade, that the militia was going to Riverside, he objected to any appropriation. "We need street lighte down in the Sixth Ward," said Davenport. "This appropriation would give us twenty fights. That is the kind of illumination we are looking for." Notsiger, McAleer and Bowen wanted to cut the appropriation to $1000. Chairman Skilling of the Finance Committee said that he had gone over the books in the City Auditor's office to examine the condition of the city funds and that they had reached the conclusion that the city might expend $1500 toward the celebration fund and the Liberty Day Committee was the council voted to contribute $1500 toward the celebration fund and the Liberty Day Committee was the called for more this year for the reason that no flesia contribution had been called for.

"It is essential to the success of our business, as well as to the comfort of the people that the streets, should be kept in good condition, and having that in view, and feeling as we do that the city cannot afford to use its water to sprinkle its streets for many years longer, we propose that we will begin with the city a system of olling the streets, and that we will thoroughly oll and maintain the portion of the streets upon which we have tracks, between the tracks, between the rails, and for two feet on each side thereof, as rapidly as the city-will oil the balance of these streets. This will be a permanent and lasting improvement, and while it will cost more than sprinkling for a time, it will be in the end an acconomy.

ALVANIZED TO MORE TROUBLE.

HEIRS AND CREDITORS FIGHTING IN CHOISSER ESTATE.

Matter Hinges on Who Died First, the Father or the Son. Hearing to Be Made in the Probate Court on That Point-Duncar Estate Increases.

There are some men who give more ouble after they are dead than when hey are alive, and Joseph and Louis Choisser furnish a case in point.
When they were killed by officers while they were resisting arrest, it was not thought that there was such a peck of trouble for the civil courts Now, however, a quarrel between the heirs of Louis Choisser and the credi-tors of his father has been aired in the courts of Saline county, Ill., and has slopped over into the Superior Court of this county.

Who died first at the time of the killing, father or son? That's all there is to the whole matter; but in the light of the prolonged dispute over exactly the same question in the estate of of the prolonged dispute over exactly the same question in the estate of the late Charles Fair, he and his wife having been both killed in an automobile accident in France, it is believed that the court may have difficulty in determining the point.

Very little money was found upon Joseph Choisser, the father, but on the person of his son, Louis, was discovered $1790 in cash. On its face, therefore, there is nothing for either the heirs or the creditors of the old man, but there is a bunch of money to distribute among the heirs of Louis. These consist of his brothers and a sister. There are Clyde Choisser, aged 25; Guy, aged 23; Percy, aged 21; Ila, aged 27, and Helen-Wright, aged 31, all residents of Salem, Ill. All of these heirs are desirous of having the estate of their brother distributed under order of the court here, but a strong cry comes from Illinois that the money be turned over by the Probate Court here to D. W. Choisser, who is administrator of both estates in Saline county, Ill. The contantion is raised that the $1750 found upon the body of Louis to D. W. Choisser, who is administrator of both estates in Saline county, Ili. The contantion is raised that the $1790 found upon the body of Louis Choisser was really the money of his father, and that the latter handed it over to his son for safe keeping in the event of his being arrested for crimes by which he became possessed of this honey. Joseph Choisser, it is alleged, went through Hardin county, Ili., buying for them by bogus checks on the Hardin County Bank of Cave-in-the-Rock and the State Bank of Elizabethtown, in the same county. The farmers cashed their checks, but when they were sent on to the bank of Elizabethtown, in the same county. The farmers cashed their checks, but when they were sent on to the bank of Elizabethtown, as Joseph Choisser had no funds on deposit to meet them. It was at that moment that it was discovered that Joseph Choisser had skipped. Investigation has since revealed that he shipped the horses to St. Louis, where they were sold, and with the proceeds he and his son. Louis, came to Los Angeles. Then followed the killing while the rogues were resisting arrest.

The matter came up before Judge Wilbur yesterdey, and the Public Administrator made the necessary proof in the estates of both father and son. He was playing no favorites, nor mixing up with the fight that has been begun. But an affidavit made by W. F.

The matter came up before Judge Wilbur yesterdey, and the Public Administrator made the necessary proof in the estates of both father and son. He was playing no favorites, nor mixing up with the fight that has been begun. But an affidavit made by W. F. Judge Wilbur would not take cogmizance of this affidavit; but, in effect, the same result may be attained by another route.

The court said that he would require that evidence be offered as to who died first, father or son. If the son, Louis, Gled first, then his title to the state passed that instant to his father, and must now be counted as part of the estate of Louis Choisser, in which the above that were than the would require that evidence be offered as to who died first, father or son. DUNCAN ESTATE INCREASES. At last the estate of the late Col.

der, and nothing remains for Mrs. Katherine Lewis to do but to pay her Litorneys and enter into possession. Yesterday Lawler, Allen and Van Dyke flied a petition for distribution and Judge Wilbur took it under consideration. There was also a statement of attorney's services flied and therein is set out in brief the various snarks and tangles into which the late Col. Duncan had drifted.

There were no less than four lawsuits that had to be determined; there were twenty-five claims aggregating about $16,000, and the property in Riverside and also at Redondo had been allowed to run down and become burdened with incumbrances of one kind ond another. At first the estate was supposed to be insolvent, and the attorneys aver that much time had to be devoted to personal supervision of matters pertaining to it. For the Riverside property an offer was received of $20,000, but the attorneys sidvised against it. Then another offer came along of $25,000, but still the attorneys held out, and in the end were justified, for the property sold for $30,000.

The final account rendered shows that there is cash on hand of $23,674.00, that has been redeemed from an "insolvent estate." Taking into consideration their time and work, as well as the amount of money saved to the estate, the attorneys claim a fee of $4000.

Mrs. Katherine Lewis, who over-turned her father's will estill resetting the constant of the state was received of $4000.

Very shortly after that Chantry himself began d'vorce proceedings against his wife, and as he desired to make the complaint hot enough he made his wife, and as he desired to make the complaint hot enough he made some scandalous allegations. The wife was thus put on the defensive, and filed a cross complaint in which she alleged gross cruelty. Then she got an order from Judge Trask that her husband pay so much for the support of herself and two children during the pendency of the suit, and a certain sum for atotrney's fees. The money for support was partly paid, but the gross amount for actorney's fees never came, and when Chantry was cited to apamount for a torney's fees never came, and when Chantry was cited to appear to show cause why he shouldn't be punished for contempt, he again failed to appear. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but by tide time had taken time by the forelock and having contrived to get hold of his two little beys, both under 5 years of age, he left the State, abandoning his business.

of age, he left the State, abandoning his business.
Yesterday the wife won her release by a decree of divorce, and judgment was also given in her favor for a lump sum of $500, $30 a month for the support of herself and children, $50 as attorney's fees, and arrearages of allmony amounting to $50.

Now, the trouble is going to be to collect these amounts. Chantry and the children are in New York State, so that he cannot be reached. The transfer business still reamnis, and though Chantry's father has come forward claiming that he owned the entire outfit, Mrs. Chantry's attorneys are prepared to show that the runaway husband was the proprietor, and that the wife and children have a lien upon it for the entire amount of judgment.

WASHINGTON PARK DULL BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] CHICAGO, June 20.—The same con-ditions that governed racing Saturday prevailed at Washington Park today, the edict of Mayor Harrison against wagering money on the results being rigidly enforced. On the corresponding day last year, with the conditions at the track the same as today, with the exception that bookmaking was permitted, more than 15,000 persons paid for admission to the grounds. Mackenzie Braves Thirsting for Scalps of Northern Strung-stick Sharps-Scheme on Foot to Make Easy Access of the Players.

Alf E. Mackenzie, team boss of the Mackenzie Braves, otherwise known as the Los Angeles Lacrosse Club, has extended the crack San Mater eleven an invitation to journey south and hook up with the local experts at Prager or Chutes Park, July 4 It is believed the invitation will be accepted, in which case lovers of the Canadian sport will see one of the best contests ever fought out in this State. The San Mateo men won their opening game of the season in San

Hardly satisfied with taking what they can get in the way of grounds, Mr. Mackenzie and his associates have been looking about quietly for a suitable piece of land, and at last they think they have found it within ten minutes' ride of Second and Spring streets. An amateur athletic field is contemplated with a ball park and equipment for various other out-door sports. Lacrosse requires a somewhat different field from either Prager or Chutes parks, both of which are a little harder than is desirable. The game is played on turf in Canada and is as much superior to skinned field lacrosse as grass diamond baseball is to the dirt game. The lacrosse enthusiasis expect not to buy this plot of land outright, but to lease it for a term of years.

The lacrosse league, which has been formed up north, has already begun its season, and details for the admission of the southern teams will probably be arranged July 4, if the San Mateo players come down for the expected game. At that time officers for the association will be elected. It is the hope of Mackenzie that ultimately a strong Pacific Coast lacrosse association will govern the game from San Diego to Seattle. The four teams in the south, Los Angeles, Redlands, Riverside and Santa Barbara are all doing good work. Riversiders are working up interest among the High School boys, who have promised to put another team into the field, and the Sherman Indians will doubtless be heard from later on.

The Turners have threatened to make up a team and remove the scalp of the Mackenzie Braves, but this bids fair to be no three days' task. The Turner team will not start operations for several weeks, if at all.

enforce these rules in all tuture tour-naments.

The selection of trio teams is in defer-ence to the well-expressed wish of the public, and was prompted partly by the knowledge that three men are easier to get together than five. Alley man-agers feel sure the tournament will keep interest awake during the sum-mer months, when bowling is usually quiet.

The recent discoveries of oil on the Gulf Coast of Mexico have attracted the attention of the Standard Oil Comthe attention of the Standard Oil Com-pany as well as that of others inter-ested in the oil industry. The discovery of oil on the coast has aroused much interest, it is said, in government circles, and there is talk of the properties being purchased by the republic. The Standard is said to have made a proposition to the Mexican Petroleum Company by which it would virtually control the production and gain an immediate foothold in the prospective oil regions of Mexico. The owners, however, are said to be desirous of negotiating first with the government of President Diaz and see what it is willing to do along the line he latter.

The result of such a move, if the government should decide to set may be a controlled. The excitement attendant upon the new strikes has served to renew interest in many old districts of southwestern Nevada and more work is reported.

NEAR DEATH VALLEY.

Excitement has been caused by a new strike recently reported near Furnace Creek, at the entrance to Death Valley. A rush was made to the scape early in May and a number of conflicting reports were sent back, but some of the prospectors who went in early have returned to Manvel and they report that some exceptionally rich placer ground running from $5 to $10 per pan has been located. Absence of water, however, has prevented any extensive operations. Many prospectors are in the Funeral range and a number of promising-looking ledges have been located.

Rumors are again current to the effect that a Los Angeles syndicate, headed by several prominent railway magnates, will soon take over the old Pro Afo mine near Fresnillo, Zacatecas, Mex. BIG UTAH MINE HOIST BURNS. PARK CITY, (Utah.) June 28.—The big No. 2 hoist of the Ontario mine, located near this city, was totally destroyed by fire today, throwing two hundred men out of employment and causing a nominal loss of about $400,000. The actual loss, however, will not greatly exceed $60,000, the loss otherwise being an immense Cornish pump, which has not been used since the completion of the Ontario tunnel, which drains that district, several years ago.

At Louisville, Ky., Judge Miller has just rendered a decision declaring a city ordinance to be unconsti tutional and void which re-quires that the union labe shall appear upon all printing done for the city. The Mayor and the city purchasing agent are enjoined from awarding printing contracts under the provisions of this ordinance. Officers of the Courier-Journal Job Printing Company brought suit against the city, the Globe Printing Company and T. C. The leading role of Jack is entrusted to capable Lottle Kendail. With her, Jack becomes a living impersonation, and her fetching humor and mimicry makes the central life of the play, makes the central life of the play. There are others who are good, too. Sinbad, the sallor is enacted by Edward Eagleton, and it wer a joilier tar sailed the roaring main his name is not featured in history. Eddie Smith makes a rather tame King Cole, but Robert Pitkin as a female woman Queen is ridiculous.

The property effects shown in "Jack and the Beanstalk" are the begt exhibited since the Olympia company's engagement. In the second act, laid in room in the giant's palace, there are numerous electrical and mechanical devices which are highly effective. Invisible doors, creepy nooks and corners with fairy-like fittings, and curious lights and shadows combine to make a highly picturesque setting.

MUSICIANS.

A delightful musicale was given last night at the Dobinson Institute by three artists who have not been heard often in Los Angeles heretofore. The performers were Harry Clifford Lott and Miss Bertha Wilbur, planiste. Miss Blanche Rogers acted as accompanist for the vocal numbers. Mr. Lott and Miss Blanche Rogers acted as accompanist for the vocal numbers. Mr. Lott and Miss Wilbur are members of the faculty of the Dobinson Institute, the latter being a sister of Superior Judge Curtis D. Wilbur. It was Miss Wilbur's debut before a Los Angeles andience, and she showed remarkable fine technique in her rendition of selections from the operas of Beethoven and Brahms. Miss Rocco, who halls from Riverside, studied with Miss Wilbur in Europe and this was a pleasing stage presence, as well as a sympathetic and well cultivated voice, and was repeatedly encored. Mr. Lott excelled in his rendition of Glotche's "Eri Konig" (Schubert), both music and words being given with fine effect. The accompaniment to this number by Miss Rogers was one of the most enjoyable features of the programme.

Admission was by special invitation and the audience was a large and representative one, comfortably filling the commodious auditorium. At the conclusion of the programme an informal reception was held by Mr. and Mrs. Dobinson, when opportunity was afforded to meet the performers of the evening who were warmly congratulated on the success of their efforts to entertain.

this week and see "Brown's in Town."
The recommendation is made with this reservation, however—that you are not overscrupulous as to what you would have your wife or lady friends hear, for there are several times during the performance when one holds his breath and wonders what will be the limit of vulgarity. The original form of the plece has been altered to allow the introduction of several special turns of a vaudeville nature, and in these one finds small talk which it is a surprise to hear from the Burbank stage. To say that it is suggestive is to speak exceedingly kindly, and it is, to be hoped that it will not be tolerated during the whole week.

"Brown's in Town" is the old story of mistaken identity, where one man has the misfortune of being accused of wearing another's shoes, metaphoricully speaking, allowing the usual laughable situations which seem to please the audience and incidentally the box office, for full houses are greeting this offering.

Miss Minnie St. Claire as Suzanna is very fetching, and Miss Christine Prince as Leity displays an exceedingly charming personality. The other members of the cast are fair.

The engagement will run week, closing Saturday night, and will be followed by the new Oliver Morosco company in Bronson Howard's "Aristocracy."

The messenger boys' union, being unable to boycett the non-union runners, decided to call the union off, and the members mot at Levy's last night to dissolve the organization, over warm platters and sparkling liquids. It was the biggest "blow-out" they have ever had, and if there is any money left in the treasury after expenses have been paid, it is to be divided equally among the members. On Saturday Fred Phillips, agent of the Seaside Water Company, dis-covered stakes at intervals along the covered states at intervals atong the entire beach from the mouth of San Cabriel River west of town, to Alamitos avenue. Two of the claimants have erected tents on their claims, and, this being in violation of the city ordinance, warrants were issued for their arrest, and a hearing will be had tomorrow.

preparing legal notice of his filing. He rays he is acting within his rights and will have no difficulty in proving up.

This movement has been fostered by and is following up the claim of John Webb, who several weeks ago filed on a part of the front at East San Pedro, known as "No Man's Land," which he claims to have discovered had never been surveyed. He made his entry and is now awaiting the maturity of his claims. A short time ago Mr. Webb came to Long Beach, and being of an inquistive turn of mind, was not long in discovering, so he says, that title was not clear. He says a Supreme Court decision exists acting forth that the Sait Lake tracks are built on high tide lands, and, if that is so, the beach is public domain, but could not be homesteeded as long as the city exercised jurisdiction.

The recent act of the city, disavowing any interest or title in the beach front, has laid it open to entry, so he contends, and he lost no time in acquainting a few friends with the supposed plum in their reach. Acting on his advice, the entire front has been taken up under the homesteed act.

Miss Ada Holland of Los Angeles lays claim to 150 acres or less from the San Gabriel River to Golden street. Mr. Moore of South Passadena claims forty acres from Golden to Magnolia. W. W. Melvin of this city claims 160 acres or less from Magnolia to Pine, which includes the bath-house and other improvements. His brother, H. D. Melvin, wants the land between Pine and Linden avenues, and James D. Scovil claims the beach between Linden avenue and Alamitos.

These claims all include the biuff from the south line of the Sait Lake tracks to the line of high tide.

At midnight last night the claimants appeared before Notary Public J. B. Holley and swore to affidavits that they were on their claims and in possion of the property, and asked that the United States surveyors at once survey the land in order that they may make their filings and complete their entry on the property in question.

The canal, which is to be seventy feet wide and four deep, will have a length of a half mile. The main canal and laterals will be more than two miles long, and to create them more than 100,000 yards of sand will have to be excavated. This is to be done under the contract at the rate of 15,000 yards a month.

The pleasure pier out into the ocean will be 900 feet long and 30 feet wide. The contract for the construction has been let to T. C. Wadsworth. It is to be completed within sixty days.

Dr. Parker had sworn to a complaint charging Platt with assault, being armed with a Platt with assault, being armed with a deadly weapon, with intent to murder. Pitt was held to the Superior Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, the more serious charge being dropped, owing to the age and mental condition of the accused, who will, no doubt, plead guilty, and be given the mercy of the court. Platt is about 70, and there is little question but he is mentally unbalanced. He has a fancied or imaginary grievance, which he sought to right through his mad attack upon the physician.

Something will be doing in a few days on the beach in the vicinity of Hollister avenue. This is the site chosen by the White Star Pier and Amusement 'Company for the building of its 900-foot pier into the sea. Hollister avenue is about midway between the North Beach warehouse and the Pier-avenue casino. The pier is to be thirty feet wide, and the contract for its construction has been let to T. S. Wadsworth, who promises to have the structure completed within sixty days. The material for it is already on the way, having been ordered several days ago. The ocean end of the pier will be in the form of a "T." and will support a hanging garden. The pier will be a double-decked affair for its entire length, affording abundant room for bath rooms, boat landing, booths, etc. The pier is to cost $25,000, and will be provided with all manner of amusement attractions. THE STORY OF GOOD STAKE. Amalgamated Copper

A PERSONAL WORD BY THOMAS W. LAWSON AND A STATEMENT BY THE PUBLISHERS OF

The Personal Word by Mr. Lawson

Personally I know that one hundred millions of dollars were lost, thirty men committed suicide, and twenty previously reputable citizens went to the penitentiary, directly because of Amal-

It was largely because of my efforts that the foundation of Amalgamated was successfully laid. It was created because of my work. It was because of what I stood for, because I had the public's confidence, and because my promises had been kept that the plain people invested two hundred million dollars of their savings, and it was because of trickery and broken promises that the public lest the encourse sums they did and it was because of trickery and broken promises that the public lost the enormous sums they did.

My motives for writing the Story of Amalgamated are manifold: I have unwittingly been made the instrument by which thousands upon thousands of investors in America and Europe have been plundered. I wish them to know my position as to the past, that they may acquit me of intentional wrong-doing; as to the present, that they may know that I am doing all in my power to right the wrongs that have been committed; and as to the future, that they may see how I propose to compel restitution.
THOMAS W. LAWSON.

A Statement by the Publishers of Everybody's Magazine

In the articles by Mr. Lawson, beginning in the July number, under the caption of "Frenzied Finance, The Story of Amalgamated," we have a narrative from Mr. Lawson's own lips, how, in the last few years. he has seen millions of dollars won without right, and thousands of men ruined. It is a story of financial tragedy

In the great financial happenings of recent years story tellers have given their versions political economists their theories; reformers their pictures; and historians their tablets. For the first time in the history of High Finance we have the High Priest tell it as it happened, and it is for Everybody's Magazine to publish "the cold-bleoded facts," for Mr. Lawson has pledged himself to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

MAKE FORTS FOR FAN TAN.

Chinese Gamblers Rebuild Raided Joints.

Determined That Policemen Shall Not Get In.

Ingenious System of Guards and Get-aways.

Men were set at work yesterday making impregnable forts out of the recently raided fan tan dens in Los Angeles Chinatown.

Taught a bitter lesson by Police Cap-tain Auble's recent raid, the Chinks have resolved to fix the joints so no White Devil policeman will be able to butt in again butt in again.

The dens were thought to be impossible of entrance before, with their enormous barred doors which snapped shut like catapults, with their guards and their look-outs and warning bells and peep holes.

Yesterday police inspected the joint raided by Capt. Auble while a big jabbering crown of Chinese waited, jabbering crown of Chinese waited, squatting on the sidewalks outside, tremendously excited. As the officers strolled through the torn-down defenses aquint-eyed faces could be seen stealthly regarding them from barred "peeks" in all sorts of unexpected places about the rooms. While some of the officers explained the mysteries of fan tan to the others, the Chink gamblers listened with silent and cynical amusement.

lers listened with slient and cynical amusement.

The ingenuity of the defense which Capt. Auble outwitted was worthy of a better cause.

The map printed here is of the joint Auble raided.

At the bottom is seen the post of the outside look-out. He walks the sidewalk and if all sentries attended to business as these fellows do, there would be no surprised armies. They are constantly on the alert. You can almost always tell them, beady-eyed Chinks whose eyes dart suspicion at every passer-by.

In front of this particular joint, there is a tiny push button on the door casing, low down near the sidewalk and purposely covered with dirt. If an officer entered the outer vestibule, the lookout sent a quick electric warning throughout the entire establishment.

Once in the inner vestibule, the ining throughout the entire establishment.

Once in the inner vestibule, the incomer is scrutinized.

One side this vestibule is supplied with a peep hole into the sentry box where the official watcher stands. It can be seen in the map. This man is supposed to be familiar with the faces of the regular patrons of the shop and to know who is on the "right list" and is to be let in.

By his peep hole are a number of ropes by which he opens the inside doors.

In most of the joints there is another window also, as shown by this map, through which the candidate for entrance can be seen.

If you "look good" to the man at the peep hole, you can grope your way how.

window also, as shewn by this map, through which the candidate for entrance can be seen.

If you 'look good' to the man at the peep hole, you can grope your way down the little dark corridor to the first barred door shown here. It is controlled by the peep hole man. It could hardly be broken down with an ax, an enormously thick affair studded with lron and supplied with a spring which shuis it with a tremendous bang.

This is passed only to encounter another door and often another still. The route inward through the doors you must pask, is shown by this map.

In the other principal gambling joint in Chinatown, the two outer doors are worked by the peep hole man; but as an additional precaution, a special guard was kept stationed at the last inside door.

The cage as shown in the map is occupied by the owner of the joint. In the cage he transacts the ordinary business of the cashier of a gambling house, and keeps his books. Chinamen do not play with chips, however, but use cash for bets.

In every joint there is a concealed stairway, which leads to the "getaway." The position of the one in this joint is being changed. There was nothing yesterday to indicate what the location will be.

It leads into the second-story is supplied with two tremendous double doors, regular mediaeval affairs, which lead onto the roof. Should the police be so foolish as to try to break in through the various doors from the street with axes, they would find
